1. The following are examples of the types of uses and disclosures of your protected health care information that the provider is permitted to make. These examples are not meant to be exhaustive, but to describe the types of uses and disclosures.

- Treatment: We will use and disclose your protected health information to provide, coordinate, or manage your health care and any related services. For example, your protected health information may be provided to a doctor to whom you have been referred to ensure that the doctor has the necessary information to diagnose or treat you.
- Payment: Your protected health information will be used, as needed, in activities related to obtaining payment for your health care services. For example, obtaining approval for a hospital stay or testing may require that your relevant protected health information be disclosed to your health insurance company or governmental plan to obtain approval for the hospital admission.
- Healthcare Operations: We may use or disclose, as-needed, your protected health information in order to support our business activities. For example, when we review employee performance, we may need to look at what an employee has documented in your medical record.
- Business Associates: We may share your protected health information with a third party 'business associate' that performs various activities (e.g., billing, transcription services). Whenever an arrangement between us and a business associate involves the use or disclosure of your protected health information, we will have a written contract that contains terms that will protect the privacy of your protected health information.
- Marketing: We may use or disclose certain health information in the course of providing you with information about treatment alternatives or health-related services. You may contact us to request that these materials not be sent to you.

Written Authorization - Other uses and disclosures of your protected health information will be made only with your written authorization, unless otherwise permitted or required by law as described below. You may revoke your authorization, at any time, in writing.

Opportunity to Object - We may use and disclose your protected health information in the following instances. You have the opportunity to object. If you are not present or able to object, then your provider may, using professional judgment, determine whether the disclosure is in your best interest.

- Others Involved in Your Healthcare: Unless you object, we may disclose to a member of your family, a relative, a close friend or any other person you identify, your protected health information that directly relates to that person's involvement in your health care.
- Emergencies: In an emergency treatment situation, we will provide you a Notice of Privacy Practices as soon as reasonably practicable after the delivery of treatment.
- Communication Barriers: We may use and disclose your protected health information if we have attempted to obtain acknowledgement from you of our Notice of Privacy Practices but have been unable to do so due to substantial communication barriers and we determine, using professional judgment, that you would agree.

Without Opportunity to Object -In general, we may use or disclose your protected health information as required by law such as in the following situations without your authorization or opportunity to object:

You may also request that information not be disclosed to family members or friends who may be involved in your care. Your request must state the specific restriction requested and to whom you want the restriction to apply. We are not required to agree to a restriction that you may request, but if we do agree, then we must act accordingly.
- request confidential communications from us by alternative means or at an alternative location. We will accommodate reasonable written requests, that include a satisfactory payment arrangement and/or specification of an alternative address or other method of contact.
